THE NEWSLETTER OF EAGLEVIEW<sup>SM</sup>

3RD QUARTER 2008

What's growing at the Arboretum (760 Constitution Drive) is Brumbaugh Wealth Management Group, one of the recent arrivals to Eagleview and a company that's definitely on the move. According to President and founder Kimberly Brumbaugh, this is the third expansion move for her company in as many years. "Now that we've arrived at Eagleview," noted Brumbaugh, "we hope to stay for a while! Our growing staff — more than doubled since 2006 — has the perfect facility to thrive."

Brumbaugh entered the financial services industry ten years ago and founded her firm in 2004, from a very interesting background. "Nationally, I was one of the top businesswomen in the Mercedes-Benz organization, a field dominated by men. The wealth management field has changed quite a bit in the last decade, but I still relish the role of trailblazer."

That's evident in Brumbaugh's recent achievements: she was named Chester County Businesswoman of the Year for 2007, and in May 2008, received PA Governor's Best 50 Businesswomen in Pennsylvania. "There's no secret to success: it's a paramount concern for our clients' best interests, and plain hard work. We create successful financial plans on a fee-based structure, working with a wide array of investments and relevant financial products."

Brumbaugh Wealth Management's clients range from small and mid-sized businesses to individuals, with a particular emphasis recently in education professionals and successful entrepreneurs. "I've found that my group has a great passion for the education field, and I'm pleased to work with professionals who match the interests and focus of our team."

Other members of the Brumbaugh team include John Porrecca, a young entrepreneur with experience in real estate investment and working with professionals in the accounting field; David Antcil, a financial professional with more than fifteen years of investments and securities experience; Paul Miller, with nineteen years experience in employee benefits and Susan Boardman, who is deeply involved with Chester County's Schools of the Future.
